

WoodWing partners with Open Connections to deliver cutting-edge information management solutions in the UK

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, April 1, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WoodWing today announces a strategic partnership with Open Connections to bring the powerful WoodWing Xtendis information and document management solution to organizations across the UK. Known for its longstanding expertise in the United Kingdom, Open Connections has been selected as the ideal partner to support WoodWing's growth and address the unique challenges faced by document-intensive verticals, including social housing.

WoodWing Xtendis is a flexible and scalable platform designed to streamline and optimise information management processes, enabling organisations to enhance compliance, reduce operational costs, and improve collaboration across teams. Housing providers, among other document-heavy industries, can benefit from a comprehensive and user-friendly solution that effectively handles vast amounts of documentation, ensuring seamless workflows and faster response times.

"We are excited to partner with Open Connections to support our expanding presence in the UK," said Wim Vis, Managing Director at WoodWing Xtendis. "Their deep knowledge of local market needs, particularly in social housing and other document-intensive fields, complements WoodWing Xtendis' robust capabilities. Together, we can deliver cutting-edge solutions that drive efficiency and value for our joint customers."

"At Open Connections, we pride ourselves on delivering innovative solutions tailored to our clients' business challenges," said Richard Rogers, CTO at Open Connections. "By joining forces with WoodWing, we can offer organisations across diverse sectors – such as social housing – a best-in-class document and information management platform that addresses both immediate needs and future scalability."

About WoodWing
