leading provider of short-term rental and vacation property management software, is proud to expand to provide for mid-term rentals and introduce Barefoot Corporate, a newly enhanced property management system designed specifically to support corporate housing providers. In conjunction with this launch, Barefoot Technologies is now a member of the Corporate Housing Providers Association (CHPA), underscoring its commitment to serving the corporate housing industry.

With decades of experience in the short-term rental space, Barefoot Technologies recognizes the growing demand for a flexible, fully integrated software solution tailored to corporate housing needs. Barefoot Corporate builds on the company's existing platform, offering enhanced capabilities that support long-term stays, lease management, compliance tracking, and in-progress integrations with key industry partners.

“Corporate housing providers require specialized tools to manage extended stays, compliance, and unique client relationships,” said Ed Ulmer, CEO of Barefoot Technologies. “Barefoot Corp delivers a robust, adaptable solution that simplifies operations while ensuring the highest level of service for corporate clients. Becoming a CHPA member further reinforces our dedication to understanding and supporting this sector.”

As a CHPA member, Barefoot Technologies will actively engage with industry leaders, stay ahead of evolving corporate housing trends, and provide technology-driven solutions that help businesses enhance their operational efficiency. Barefoot Corp combines the company's deep industry expertise with the flexibility and customization that have long defined Barefoot Technologies' approach.
