/EINPresswire.com/ -- Inc. today

revealed that Waccamaw Dermatology, one of the largest physician-owned and led dermatology practices in the Carolinas, ranked No. 153 on its fifth annual Inc. Regionals: Southeast list, the most prestigious ranking of the fastest-growing private companies in the Southeast, which includes South Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, and Puerto Rico. An extension of the national Inc. 5000 list, the Regionals offer a unique look at the most successful companies within the Southeast economy's most dynamic segment – its independent small businesses.

Our placement on the Inc. Regionals list is a testament to the hard work of our physicians, caregivers and everyone in our offices. We thank Inc. for this recognition and our patients for their trust.”

“Waccamaw Dermatology has worked to build a thriving practice in the Carolinas that puts patients first and increases access to needed dermatological care and skin cancer screening,” said Brandon J. Coakley, M.D., Board-Certified Dermatologist, fellowship-trained Mohs Surgeon, and Managing Partner of Waccamaw Dermatology. “Our placement on the Inc. Regionals list is a testament to the hard work of our physicians, caregivers, and everyone in our offices. We thank Inc. for this recognition and our patients for their trust.”

The companies on the list show remarkable growth across all Southeast industries. Between 2021 and 2023, these 192 private companies had a median growth rate of 114 percent. By 2023, they added 11,493 jobs and $8.1 billion to the region's economy.

Waccamaw Dermatology offers the latest medical and aesthetic advancements. The company's growth strategy is part of its larger commitment to ensure that visiting a dermatologist is as easy as seeing any other medical specialist. In the past two years, Waccamaw has continued its expansion in the Carolinas; a Wilmington office opened this February, and a Mount Pleasant office opened in 2024.

In addition to skin cancer screening and all routine dermatological needs, Waccamaw Dermatology offers Mohs Micrographic Surgery and Image-Guided Superficial Radiation Therapy (IG-SRT). Mohs is the gold standard surgical treatment for high-risk basal and squamous cell carcinoma, as it removes all cancerous cells and can treat most skin cancers. For patients who prefer a noninvasive option, IG-SRT is a non-surgical alternative to Mohs surgery for select cancers.

“The honorees on this year’s Inc. Regionals list are true trailblazers driving economic growth in their respective regions, industries, and beyond. This list celebrates their achievements and tells the stories of remarkable companies fueling growth and adding jobs in local economies throughout the country,” said Bonny Ghosh, editorial director at Inc.
