Two designers at Heritage Pools have earned the Certified Pool Builder (CBP) certification.

CHARLESTON, SC, UNITED STATES, April 2, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Two designers at Heritage Pools have earned the Certified Pool Builder (CBP) certification. Devin Dockery and Dave Sexton of Heritage Pools join a community of professionals who have demonstrated their dedication to higher standards of practice in the pool building industry.

The Certified Builder Professional is a nationally recognized designation. This program provides in-depth knowledge to build any type of swimming pool. All CBPs must complete the GENESIS Construction School course (C201 or C260) and pass the CBP exam to qualify for this program.

The CBP is the first level of certification in the PHTA Certified Pool Builder and Design Professional Pathway, an education and certification career pathway designed to build upon knowledge in order to become a Certified Master Pool Builder and Design Professional.
