By uniting families with shared experiences, Brave Hearts aims to provide resources and support throughout their heart journeys.

My daughter Meadow was born with four congenital heart defects, and BraveHearts has been a steady presence for our family throughout her journey.”

Sarah Boes

“As the owner of Mallard Hall Estate, I am proud to open our grounds for an egg hunt benefiting Brave Hearts. Supporting our community is an important part of what we do, and this event is more than just a fun-filled tradition. It's a chance for our community to come together and make a difference for children and families facing extraordinary challenges. We invite everyone to join us in making a difference!” Says Annette Vitale

All proceeds from the event will support Brave Hearts and by participating, attendees will contribute to vital services and research that benefit young patients and their families within our community.

“We’re so grateful to Mallard Hall Estate for choosing Brave Hearts as the beneficiary of this year’s Easter Egg Hunt,” said Sarah Boes. “As a heart mom myself, I know how meaningful it is to feel seen and supported by your community. My daughter Meadow was born with four congenital heart defects, and BraveHearts has been a steady presence for our family throughout her journey. This network helps families like mine feel less alone during hospital stays, builds real community outside the hospital walls, and raises funds to advance the care kids receive at Norton Children’s. To see a joyful event like this turned into something that also gives back – it really means a lot.”

Join us on Saturday April 19, at the breathtaking Mallard Hall Estate, located at 18701 Shelbyville Rd in Fisherville, KY, for a joyful celebration benefiting Brave Hearts. Families can enjoy an afternoon filled with fun activities, including egg hunt, photo opportunities with the Easter Bunny, an interactive petting zoo.
