"This expansion into metal signs was a natural progression for us," said the CRAZY NEON® team. "Although we're known for our vibrant neon sign manufacturing, we recognized growing demand for premium metal signs that offer a different kind of visual impact. Therefore, we came up with metal signs. Our new collection combines the same commitment to quality manufacturing with the timeless appeal of metal."

“

Create the vibe with these vibrant varieties of signs!"

Their new collection displays CRAZY NEON®'s signature

attention to detail through several standout offerings. Custom metal letters and numbers provide striking address markers and building identification in different finishes. The personalized metal logo signs transform company branding into dramatic dimensional installations. These signs cater corporate environments and retail spaces perfectly.

From custom metal letters and logos to artistic wall decor and elegant monograms, this collection represents industrial strength with refined aesthetics. Whether you're branding a storefront, personalizing a home, or making a statement in a corporate setting, these metal signs deliver unmatched presence.

Art enthusiasts and designers will appreciate the artistic metal wall decor line. Metal wall art features handcrafted pieces that serve as captivating focal points. For personalized touches, the metal monogram collection offers elegant initial designs suitable for residential decor, special events, or distinctive business branding.

The artistic metal wall decor segment represents a particular point of differentiation, with handcrafted pieces that function as standalone art installations rather than purely informational signage. This bridges the gap between functional signage and decorative elements, appealing to designers and architects looking to integrate branding with interior design.

The company's manufacturing facility, staffed by over 100 skilled craftspeople, has been adapted to accommodate the new metalworking processes alongside its existing neon production capabilities. This dual-capacity operation positions CRAZY NEON® as one of the relatively few signage companies capable of producing both high-quality illuminated signs and premium metal signage under one roof.

Industry observers note that this expansion comes at a time when businesses and designers are increasingly looking for signage solutions that offer both visual impact and material authenticity. The textured, tangible quality of metal provides a counterpoint to the luminous glow of neon, giving specifiers a broader palette to work with when creating branded environments.

"This collection allows us to serve an even broader range of design needs while maintaining the exceptional quality our customers expect."

The Metal Signs Collection is now available for order through CRAZY NEON®'s website. They also provide free custom design consultations for businesses and individuals looking to create unique signage.
