

myDermRecruiter Partners with Dermwise to Enhance Dermatology Education for Healthcare Providers

myDermRecruiter and Dermwise collaborate to offer advanced dermatology education, empowering healthcare providers with essential skills and resources.

WASHINGTON, MO, UNITED STATES, May 2, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- myDermRecruiter, the leading dermatology recruitment firm in the US, has joined forces with Dermwise, a premier provider of CME-accredited online dermatology training, to help bridge the educational gap for advanced practice providers (APPs) and other healthcare professionals seeking to specialize in dermatology.

myDermRecruiter is committed to supporting dermatology providers desiring greater knowledge and skills that will advance their careers and the field as a whole.

With demand for skilled dermatology APPs at an all-time high, myDermRecruiter recognizes the importance of accessible, quality education in shaping the next generation of dermatology professionals. This collaboration with Dermwise ensures that APPs, as well as other medical professionals eager to enhance their dermatological expertise have access to comprehensive, flexible learning resources.

"At myDermRecruiter, we are dedicated to fostering professional growth within the dermatology industry," said Michelle Sullentrop, CEO of myDermRecruiter. "By partnering with Dermwise, we are connecting driven medical professionals with a cutting-edge educational platform, simplifying the learning process and equipping them with the expertise needed to excel."

Dermwise, founded in 2015 by board-certified dermatologist Dr. Roger T. Moore, was designed to alleviate the challenges of mastering dermatology by providing an expertly curated, ready-to-use didactic curriculum. The platform's fully online, self-paced courses offer a streamlined approach to dermatology education, eliminating the traditional complexities of didactic learning. Across three Dermwise courses, learners have access to over 8,500 high-resolution clinical images, offering unmatched visual reinforcement to build diagnostic accuracy and confidence.

“We’re happy to be able to refer the many NPs and PAs we work with who don’t have dermatology experience to such a great tool to gain practical knowledge as they try to get into the field of dermatology,” said Michelle Sullentrup, CEO of myDermRecruiter. “Dermwise’s approach makes learning accessible and engaging, and this partnership will help these professionals feel more confident and prepared as they pursue a career in dermatology.”

Through this partnership, myDermRecruiter is making it easier than ever for APPs and other professionals to access high-quality dermatology education. Upon completing all three Dermwise courses, participants receive the Dermwise Dermatology Mastery Certificate—a credential showcasing commitment to dermatological excellence.

Those who register using this exclusive link will receive a $250 discount on Dermwise courses. Participants in Dermwise courses are eligible to earn AMA PRA Category 1 Credits, AAPA Category 1 CME Credits and AANP contact hours, including pharmacology hours.
