

Award-Winning Author Dennis R. Garcia to Exhibit at North County San Diego Latino Book & Family Festival This Saturday

OCEANSIDE, CA, UNITED STATES, April 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- International Latino Book Award-winning author Dennis R. Garcia will be featured at the 76th Latino Book & Family Festival on Saturday, April 5, 2025, at MiraCosta College in Oceanside, CA. The festival, which celebrates literacy, culture, and community, will bring together authors, educators, families, and thought leaders from across the region.

Garcia will be on site throughout the day as an exhibiting author, available to discuss his most recent release, Las Madres: Latinas in the Heartland Who Led Their Family to Success. The critically-acclaimed work chronicles the lives of three generations of Latina women in Garcia's family—beginning with his great-grandmother's migration from Mexico and culminating in a legacy of strength, resilience, and service in America's Midwest.

"This event is about more than books—it's about culture, identity, and honoring the stories and history of Latinos in the US," Garcia said. "It's an honor to be part of a festival that uplifts Latino voices, and I look forward to connecting with readers and families from across Southern California."

Garcia's Las Madres has resonated with readers across the country for its deeply personal yet widely relatable themes. From railroad labor camps to community activism, the book tells the true story of Latinas whose lives reflect a history that's too often overlooked. Their experiences helped shape the civic and cultural fabric of the Midwest, and their strength continues to inspire generations.
