In response to rising demand, the school is introducing additional tutoring for students from other educational institutions. Students can choose between private online tutoring sessions priced at $40.00 per hour or group tutoring online during office hours for $25.00 per hour.

We decided to offer these new review options as we have been getting requests from students having difficulty passing the state licensing exam. Sometimes, all a student needs is a few hours of review”

Christopher Kazor, CIC, LUTCF, CDEI, Chief Academic Officer

Students enrolled in pre-licensing classes at the Insurance School of Tampa Bay will benefit from free tutoring for six months following their class registration, with an additional two months of support available. We strongly encourage all students to take advantage of this invaluable resource by scheduling at least two hours per week to meet with instructors during office hours.

“We decided to offer these new review options as we have been getting requests from students having difficulty passing the state licensing exam. Sometimes, all a student needs is a few hours of review in a certain coverage or concept, like in Liability, the difference between claims-made and occurrence liability triggers. Then there are some students that need and want a review of all topics and can benefit from the 'Pass Insurance Exam Program,' said Christopher Kazor, CIC, LUTCF, CDEI, Chief Academic Officer for The Insurance School of Tampa Bay.”
