Approved as Texas Real Estate Commission Continuing Education Provider and Certified as Women's Business Enterprise

HOUSTON, TX, UNITED STATES, April 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Conscious Healthy Home, LLC, a business specializing in healthy home consulting and building science expertise, is proud to announce two significant achievements: approval as a Continuing Education (CE) provider by the Texas Real Estate Commission (TREC) and national certification as a Women's Business Enterprise by the Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC).

The TREC approval designates Conscious Healthy Home as an accredited educational resource for real estate professionals throughout Texas, while the WBENC certification—granted through the Women's Business Enterprise Alliance (WBEA)—confirms the business is at least 51% owned, operated, and controlled by a woman, meeting the gold standard for women-owned business certification in the United States.

"We're thrilled to receive TREC approval as a continuing education provider, which allows us to share critical knowledge about healthy home environments with real estate professionals across Texas," said Cristina Greenfield, Founder of Conscious Healthy Home, LLC. "Real estate agents are often the first point of contact for families making important housing decisions. With the wellness real estate market estimated to grow annually and reach over $900 billion by 2028, agents with specialized knowledge in healthy homes are increasingly valuable. By equipping these professionals with expertise in building health and indoor air quality, we can help more Texans make informed choices about their living environments."

Regarding the WBENC certification, Greenfield added, "This certification is a significant milestone for Conscious Healthy Home and validates our mission to create healthier living environments for families. As someone who experienced firsthand the devastating health impacts of an unhealthy home environment, I'm committed to helping others avoid similar situations. The WBENC certification will allow us to connect with more corporations and organizations that value both diversity in their supply chains and the importance of healthy building practices."

As a TREC-approved provider, Conscious Healthy Home will offer specialized courses focusing on identifying potential health hazards in residential properties, understanding building science principles that affect indoor air quality, and recognizing features that contribute to healthier living spaces. These courses will enable real estate professionals to better serve their clients while earning required continuing education credits.

The WBENC certification process implemented by the Women's Business Enterprise Alliance involved a meticulous review, including an in-depth business assessment and site inspection. This certification opens doors to professional development
