

SPA Awarded SLCM-N Program Support Contract Valued At $98,585,373

ALEXANDRIA, VA, UNITED STATES, April 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Systems Planning & Analysis (SPA), a leading global provider of technical innovation in support of critical national security objectives, has been awarded a modification to a previously awarded cost-plus fixed-fee contract in the amount of $98,585,373 to provide program support for the U.S. Navy's Nuclear-Armed Sea-Launched Cruise Missile (SLCM-N) Program.

SPA President Terry Benedict

As the support services provider for the SLCM-N Program Office, SPA will deliver comprehensive support, including technical program management, acquisition and engineering planning, strategic advisory services, executive coordination, and operational analysis. This effort will guide the Program Office's transition from initial standup through execution. Primary work location will be Alexandria, VA, with additional support provided at various sites across the U.S.

Our partnership with the U.S. Navy, based on the highest standards of performance and reliability, has been pivotal in advancing national security interests for over 50 years.”

SPA President Terry Benedict

SPA President Terry Benedict commented, “This new contract demonstrates the enduring trust in SPA's longstanding history of expertise in technical and program management integration support for critical strategic deterrence systems. Our partnership with the U.S. Navy, based on the highest standards of performance and reliability, has been pivotal in advancing national security interests for over 50 years. We look forward to continuing the tradition of excellence with this new award supporting the Navy's SLCM-N Program.”
