Upon receiving the Award, Geeta Sidhu-Robb, Founder and CEO of WCorp, said: “We are honoured to receive the Disruptor of the Year Award. At WCorp, we believe that diversity and inclusion must be more than just a corporate buzzword - they must be woven into the fabric of every organisation. This recognition reinforces our commitment to empowering businesses with the tools to create equitable workplaces where women can thrive. We look forward to continuing our mission of driving lasting change.”

Now in their 10th year, and globally recognised, the Best Business Awards are one of the longest standing, well established and accessible business awards bodies open for entry. Winning a Best Business Award speaks volumes about WCorp. Due to their high profile, the Awards attract a wide range of entries from across all sectors from across the world; large international PLCs and public sector organisations to dynamic and innovative SMEs. The winners all have one thing in common – they are truly outstanding at what they do.
