Launch of Mortgage Marketing Vault

We hope to disrupt the traditional, old-fashioned promotion-based marketing that mortgage professionals typically use.”

Claudia Loens, Founder

Mortgage Marketing Vault addresses a critical gap in the mortgage industry by offering engaging, relevant content that goes beyond typical promotional materials. From social media posts, videos and blog articles to templates and printables, the Vault delivers resources that focus on educating potential clients and nurturing referral relationships.

“Our goal is to provide unique, industry-related content for reverse and traditional loan officers that is fun, affordable and easy to use,” said Claudia Loens, Founder of Mortgage Marketing Vault. “The types of content marketing departments tend to create are all promotional—our content focuses on the interests and education of potential clients and referral partners—not just promoting mortgage services.”

The Mortgage Marketing Vault offers mortgage professionals access to a treasure trove of marketing materials designed to boost their online presence, credibility, and client engagement. The Vault aims to simplify marketing for busy loan officers, providing a streamlined way to stay visible and relevant without spending hours creating content from scratch.
