RELIEF, the Go-To choice for recovery from Laser and Microneedling

Formulator at SENSITIVE SKIN LLC. "In this critical recovery period, it's paramount to use only 'clean care' recovery products because any introduction of harsh chemicals or fragrances will further irritate the skin. Our RELIEF Faster Recovery Balm solves this problem with potent plant-based ingredients, scientifically proven to promote rapid skin recovery after procedures."

The timing couldn't be better, as the medical spa industry continues its explosive growth, with Americans spending over $14 billion annually on non-invasive aesthetic procedures. This growth, however, has revealed a significant gap in the market – the lack of specialized aftercare products that maintain and enhance treatment results.

RELIEF addresses four critical post-procedure concerns: inflammation, irritation, redness, and swelling. Its advanced formula includes Balloon Vine Extract, Murumuru Butter, Elderberry Extract, and Ceramide NP, along with other clinically-validated botanicals that work synergistically to accelerate skin recovery.

RELIEF joins SENSITIVE SKIN LLC's acclaimed lineup of Med Spa Solutions products, including ELIXIR Premium Serum, GLOW Brightening Mask, and CALM Nourishing Cleansing Balm. Each product in the collection is formulated with 100% clean, non-irritating ingredients specifically designed for compromised and post-treatment skin.

"We've created Med Spa Solutions as a category that addresses a significant need in the industry," Wertheim continues. "These products aren't meant to replace professional treatments but rather to enhance their efficacy and extend their benefits, creating a seamless connection between in-spa services and at-home care."

The introduction of RELIEF and the Med Spa Solutions category represents a strategic evolution for SENSITIVE SKIN LLC, which has built its reputation on creating high-performance formulations for delicate and reactive skin. The company's commitment to uncompromising quality is evident in its approach to product development – using only the highest quality, scientifically-validated ingredients while avoiding harsh chemicals, synthetic fragrances, and other potential irritants.

"What distinguishes our Med Spa Solutions from other professional skincare lines is our laser focus on the specific needs of post-treatment skin, particularly during vulnerable recovery periods," explains Alex Wertheim, Vice President of Marketing. "We're not trying to be everything to everyone. Instead, we've developed highly specialized formulations that address the unique challenges faced by individuals with reactive skin who undergo professional treatments."

The introduction of the Med Spa Solutions category aligns perfectly with two converging market trends: the rapidly growing demand for professional aesthetic treatments and consumers' heightened awareness of skin barrier health. Industry forecasts predict these trends will continue accelerating through 2030, with post-treatment care products emerging as a critical component in maximizing procedure results and customer satisfaction.

RELIEF Post-Treatment Faster Recovery Balm is now available nationwide through select medical spas and directly through SENSITIVE SKIN LLC's website. The product retails for $78 for a 30ml jar.
