WEST PALM BEACH, FL, UNITED STATES, April 8, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Palm Beach County-based private equity firm IBS Institutional Capital, a sister company of IBS Investment Bank (IBS, N.A.), today announced that Jason Jackson, the firm's chief executive officer, has accepted a coveted invitation to join Inc. magazine's Inc. 5000 Community.

Beyond capital deployment, we harness high transactional IQ to provide operational support to our borrowers, portfolio companies, and financial institutions seeking to enter the space.”

Jason Jackson, IBS Investment Bank Chairman and Chief Investment Officer

Honored by Inc. for the first time nearly a decade ago, IBS, N.A. ranked #362 on the list of 5,000 companies while placing #16 among its peers in the financial services industry. In March 2025, Jackson accepted the invitation to join the Inc. community, designed exclusively for founders and CEOs who understand the challenges and triumphs of building, sustaining, and growing the most successful companies in the country. The community serves as a place where these exceptional leaders can collaborate within a hub of trust.

“We pride ourselves on upholding dominance within our sphere of the private markets throughout economic cycles. Beyond capital deployment, we harness high transactional IQ to provide operational support to our borrowers, portfolio companies, and financial institutions seeking to enter the space. Special thanks to INC. for valuing the unfaltering diligence of our team and your special invitation to partner in the Inc. 5000 Community,” said Jason Jackson, IBS, N.A., Chairman and Chief Investment Officer.

Jackson, a Forbes Finance Council since 2016, has been noted for leading groundbreaking private credit and private equity transactions. Since 2011, the decorated investment banker has served as the senior executive of IBS Investment Bank and its subsidiaries. Birthed out of the 2008 financial crisis, IBS, N.A. maintains its top rank as one of the most stable private credit providers to operating companies and real estate sponsors.
