True precision in surgical procedures are the next frontier in surgery. nView medical’s solution provides quick, low-radiation 3D images that integrates seamlessly with emerging guidance and AI technologies. By solving longstanding challenges — such as slow imaging times, high radiation exposure and technology integration — nView medical aims to positively impact patient outcomes and redefine the standard of care.

“I still vividly remember our first surgery using our system,” Atria adds, reflecting on the moment he realized the real-world impact the technology could have. “That experience reinforced our mission and reminded me why we started this venture. Now that we have surpassed 500 surgeries with the nView s1, it feels that our mission is becoming a reality!"

Join the Crowd! By choosing a community crowdfunding approach, nView medical welcomes a broader audience of supporters who believe in its mission. The open, transparent process allows anyone to become part of the company's growth story, sharing both the risks and the rewards of its advancements in healthcare.
