The new Scientific Beauty line introduces a range of advanced products with elevated actives and premium textures. The reformulated Vitamin C+E Ferulic Serum now features a stabilized 25% vitamin C complex for powerful antioxidant protection and glow. The Hyaluronic Niacin Panthenol Serum offers deep hydration, barrier support, and calming benefits ideal for reactive and post-procedure skin. Other standout launches include the Advanced Vitamin B+E Recovery Cream, a nutrient-rich moisturizer with therapeutic concentrations of vitamins B5 and E; the Niacin Squalane Neck Cream, targeting tone, firmness, and elasticity in the neck and décolleté; and the Resveratrol Niacinamide Rich Cream, a high-potency night cream that supports skin recovery and radiance.

The brand also debuts its first-ever body product—the Advanced Lactic Acid Cream, designed to treat keratosis pilaris, body breakouts, and rough texture—as well as the Advanced Lauric Acid Cleanser, the first U.S. facial cleanser powered by both lauric and myristic acids for deep but gentle purification. The Retinal Bakuchiol Serum combines retinaldehyde, retinol, and bakuchiol for a multitasking approach to skin renewal, while the Polypeptide Eye Cream blends plant-based phytopeptides, retinol, and regenerative actives to smooth and firm the under-eye area. For physical exfoliation, the Microdermabrasion Scrub offers a refined polishing experience that improves tone and texture without irritation. The newly launched Vermilion Lip Plump, a lightly tinted translucent version of the bestselling Platinum Lip Plump, adds a wash of color while delivering visible plump and hydration.

Scientific Beauty continues to offer its beloved hero products, which have been featured in Vogue, Allure, Vanity Fair, Elle, and more. The Platinum Lip Plump remains a best-in-class collagen-boosting gloss known for its immediate volumizing effect. The Platinum Long Lash is a prostaglandin-free lash serum that enhances length and thickness without irritation. The Extreme Lengthening Mascara combines dramatic pigment with lash-conditioning technology, while the Gold Collagen Face Mask delivers an instant firming and brightening effect with hydrogel and peptides. The Peptide Eye Cream continues to be a cult favorite for targeting puffiness, dark circles, and fine lines, and the Hyaluronic Serum with B5 remains a foundational staple for multi-depth hydration.
