Dr. Warfield was chosen as an American Field Service exchange student during the Cold War, allowing her to experience life in Berlin, Germany. She went on to earn her Bachelor of Arts from Swarthmore College and a cum laude Juris Doctor from Rutgers School of Law – Camden before practicing law for 22 years in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Her personal growth journey led her to train with motivational figures such as Matthew Fox, Andrew Harvey, Oscar Miro Quesada, Barbara Marx Hubbard, T Harv Eker, Jean Houston, Joanna

Macy, Carolyn Myss, Thomas Huebl, and Ken Wilber. Janet has engaged in transformative experiences like eating fire, breaking boards with her hand, walking on hot coals in her bare feet, and with a partner, bending a steel rebar using only their necks, pushing the boundaries of mind and body.

In 2006, Janet shifted to facilitating interactive workshops while living in Panama. Her expertise has been featured on numerous radio and TV shows, including "Dare to Dream Radio," "Waking Up—Learning What Your Life is Trying to Teach You," and "Dancing with Words, Dancing with Wisdom."

While residing in Roatan, Honduras, Dr. Warfield authored her Amazon bestselling book, Shift: Change Your Words, Change Your World, which also won the Next Generation Indie Book Award. Shift serves as an innovative instrument for broadening awareness. It is distributed worldwide and has been translated into four languages: Bulgarian, Russian, Indonesian, and Slovakian. Her article "Freedom from Fear" was included in J. Kim Wright's American Bar Association bestseller, Lawyers as Peacemakers: Practicing Holistic, Problem-Solving Law. Additionally, "Surrendering into Soul: A Heroine's Journey" reflects her journey to manifest in the world through her theories, stories, concepts, and wordplay, the insights she has gained over her 88 years of lived experience.

Throughout 55 years of transformative experiences, 22 years as a practicing attorney, and a lifetime dedicated to writing, speaking, and engaging with language, Dr. Warfield has crafted semantic solutions to alleviate human suffering. From a profound experiential standpoint, she comprehends the energetic impact of human words on the mind, body, emotions, and spirit, as she has personally experienced them.

In May 2017, Dr. Warfield delivered a speech at an Inspire-New Zealand event in Dunedin, New Zealand. She spent three nights in a pre-Maori community on the North Island and assisted in distributing Sawyer water filters to a school in Vanuatu, South Sea Islands, before continuing her journey to Australia to snorkel on the Great Barrier Reef.

In January 2018, Janet delivered a speech in La Jolla, California, at the "Be the Voice of Positive Change Gathering." In February, she visited temples and ashrams in Southern India as part of a Sacred Activism tour with Andrew Harvey. In March, she participated in the International Women's Day celebration in Katwadda, Uganda, went on safari in the Greater Serengeti, Tanzania, and explored Pretoria, Franschhoek, Cape Town, and the Cape of Good Hope, South Africa.

Jim Master's conducted an interview with Janet regarding her consciousness-shifting experiences and the challenges she faced in articulating them. In the video, Janet discusses her "heroine's journey," detailing her challenges with fear and anger. She delves into the ways we utilize language, examining the dynamics of human power—power over, power under, and power against. She poses profound questions about how we employ analytical and divisive language to transform our consciousness, seeking alignment with a "Power Greater than Ourselves" and ultimately transitioning into "Power With," not just among fellow humans but with all of creation. How can we employ analytical and divisive language to foster and collaboratively create a peaceful, powerful, and prosperous world – together?

Janet launched a TV Show https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL2mJRFNbd\_wiUPsnS-zqoevklVg1Wamgi that interviews intriguing changemakers from around the globe who are collectively enhancing the consciousness of our planet.

In 2019, Janet engaged actively with Terry Patten, the acclaimed author of A New Republic of the Heart. Terry's year-long experiment in "we-space" united individuals from across the globe, fostering deep connections rooted in compassion, support, and the exchange of talents, skills, and gifts among themselves and the wider world.

On April 17, 2020, Janet submitted Articles of Incorporation in the State of Florida for a new educational (501)(c)(3) foundation, Planetary Peace, Power, and Prosperity Legacy Foundation, Inc.. She is collaborating with a robust network of individuals to provide transformative education to all citizens globally on cultivating inner peace, personal empowerment, and prosperity in their lives. When all individuals on our planet embrace the power of their words to transform their reality, we will unite to create, co-create, and manifest a Peaceful, Powerful, and Prosperous Planet – together.
