The event which took place at the ADNEC Centre Abu Dhabi from 7-9 April was a massive success. The event happened under the theme of 'Mapping the Future of Global Investment: The New Wave of a Globalized Investment Landscape', which saw the participation of more than 20,000 people from, representing 180 countries. Presidents together with ministers and governors of central banks and industrialists participated in the event.

During his panel discussion, Elsaywy addressed critical topics shaping the future of startups, including Software as a Service (SaaS), Agentic AI, and how startups are building and pivoting with artificial intelligence technologies, and trends in the TIC industry.

"The startup landscape is rapidly evolving with AI as a fundamental driver of innovation," said ELSAWY. "At Checkfirst, we're seeing firsthand how AI tools for scheduling, verifying, and inspecting can transform traditional Testing Inspection and Certification companies, creating more efficient workflows and enabling companies to make data-driven decisions."

Elsawy shared the stage with distinguished panelists including:

Aleksandra A.-Hesselroth (Partner, Venionaire Capital AG)
Ayhan K. Isaacs (Head of Growth, Founder Institute)
Muhammad Abu Elgheit (Founder & CEO, TechieMatter)
Khaled Senawy (CEO, Squadio)
Youssef Kamal (CEO, Euclid Solutions)
Hasan Dayoub (AI Product Manager, Future LabY)

The 400+ panels of AIM Congress 2025 had 1,250 renowned speakers from various portfolios like Foreign Direct Investment, Global Trade, Startups and Unicorns, Future Cities, Future Finance, Global Manufacturing, Digital Economy, and Entrepreneurs.

His Excellency Dr. Thani bin Ahmed Al Zeyoudi, UAE Minister of State for Foreign Trade and President of AIM Congress highlighted the event's importance: "AIM Congress serves as a top international gathering for decision-makers, business leaders, investors, and government officials to discuss economic developments and sustainable growth opportunities."
