Why refurbish kitchen cabinets?

Painting kitchen cabinets is a cost-effective alternative to entirely replacing a kitchen. Pearsons Home Improvements offers a professional kitchen cabinet painting service that can significantly enhance any kitchen, modern or old. Their expertise extends to painting various types of kitchen units, including wood, painted wood, and laminate-wrapped cabinets.

Kitchen cabinet refurbishment offers significant environmental benefits. It reduces waste and promotes sustainability. Instead of replacing entire cabinets, which often end up in landfills, refurbishment allows homeowners to reuse the existing units, preserving valuable materials and minimising the environmental impact. By updating the appearance and functionality of the cabinets, refurbishing extends their lifespan and contributes to a more sustainable approach to home improvement.

Painting kitchen cabinets provides various benefits to clients, such as the ability to adjust the finish, colour and overall design. Clients can choose from a variety of colours to complement a kitchen to ensure the cabinets look bespoke and create the desired style.

Choosing the correct company to update a kitchen is vital. Painting kitchen cabinets isn't as simple as painting walls. It requires precision and a fine touch. It is a specialist trade and requires an advanced level of skill to get lasting results. If done incorrectly, the paint can separate on the cabinet, making a textured finish. Using top-of-the-range spray equipment & meticulous preparation of every cabinet is the only way to provide customers with lasting results that look great.

There are multiple ways to paint kitchen cupboards, but spray decorating is one of the more premium options available. Spraying is much quicker and limits disruption while providing a smooth, even coat. By spraying units, it's easier to achieve uniform coverage across large areas. A common issue when hand painting is the thickness of the coat, but you can spray evenly without this concern. The finish has no brushstrokes, meaning a sprayed kitchen unit looks like it's fresh out of the factory.

Pearsons Home Improvements is a small business that prides itself on delivering a top-quality service. As the local painter and decorator, Dom, the business owner, is highly knowledgeable and friendly to work with. He can advise clients on what could work best for them, and he delivers 5-star results.

With over 35 glowing reviews, this local decorating company has proven itself to be a highly recommended business in Hertfordshire. Along with the Which? Trusted Trader accreditation, Dom, comes in as one of the most recommended local decorators in Hertfordshire.
