

Koniag Government Services Promotes Dr. Eric Reyes to Chief Security Officer

As KGS Chief Security Officer, Dr. Eric Reyes Advances Enterprise Security and Accelerates CMMC Readiness

CHANTILLY, VA, UNITED STATES, April 16, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Koniag Government Services (KGS) has announced the promotion of Dr. Eric J. Reyes, Ph.D., to Chief Security Officer (CSO). A recognized cybersecurity leader and one of WashingtonExec's 2023 Top CISO Executives to Watch, Dr. Reyes brings over two decades of expertise in federal law enforcement, industrial security, and cybersecurity leadership.

As CSO, Dr. Reyes will lead the full spectrum of security operations across KGS—including industrial, physical, personnel, and information security. He will also oversee the company's enterprise cybersecurity program and spearhead KGS's efforts to achieve Cybersecurity Maturity Model Certification (CMMC) Level 2—a critical milestone in supporting the evolving mission needs of the Department of Defense and other federal customers.

"Eric has built a proactive and resilient security culture at KGS," said Kevin Wideman, KGS Chief Executive Officer. "His strategic leadership ensures we remain ahead of evolving threats, compliant with federal mandates, and ready to scale securely in support of our customers' missions."

Since joining KGS in 2020, Dr. Reyes has embedded security across all business operations, leading impactful initiatives such as: automation of core security functions; implementation of
