LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, April 16, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Kick Game Boosts Revenue by 18.5% with Flockr's Social Proof Platform Premium sneaker retailer sees significant uplift in conversions through on-brand, data-driven messaging

Kick Game, one of Europe's leading luxury sneaker and streetwear retailers, has seen an 18.5% increase in revenue after implementing Flockr, a social proof platform designed to drive conversions through real-time shopper insights.

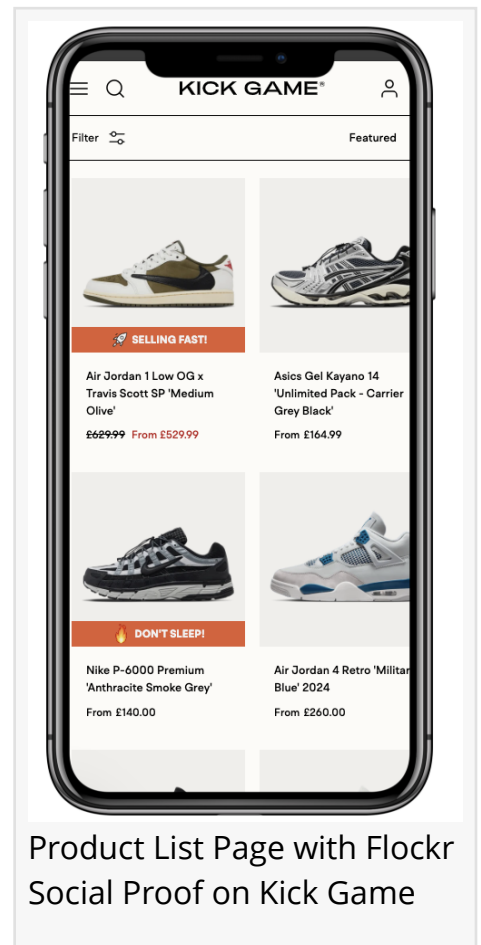

Flockr's technology displays dynamic, brand-aligned messages across all pages — highlighting purchases, browsing activity, and popularity indicators to encourage shopper action without disrupting the customer experience.

The uplift was measured through an A/B split test across desktop and mobile traffic, revealing that customers exposed to Flockr messages were significantly more likely to convert. Flockr handled full setup, styling, and optimisation — requiring no technical involvement from Kickgame's in-house team.

"Kick Game is a brand that cares deeply about its customer journey," said Gareth James, Founder of Flockr. "We're thrilled to help them unlock even more value from their traffic using social proof that's subtle, smart, and effective."
