

SolGuruz Launches AI-Enhanced Travel App Development Services for the Tourism Sector

SolGuruz launches AI-powered travel app solutions to help tourism businesses personalize user journeys, automate support, and deliver real-time experiences.

NY, UNITED STATES, April 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SolGuruz, a software development firm known for its tailored industry solutions, has launched a new set of services aimed at helping travel companies modernize their digital platforms. The focus is on building apps that incorporate artificial intelligence to improve personalization, automate user interactions, and deliver real-time content.

The service rollout comes as travel businesses continue to invest in digital tools that support more flexible and responsive customer experiences. SolGuruz's development process includes options for AI-powered itinerary suggestions, dynamic search results, real-time weather and location data, and multilingual chatbot support.

"Travelers are using mobile apps as their first point of contact — not just to book, but to explore and decide," said Paresh Mayani, CEO of SolGuruz.

"We're helping tourism businesses close that gap with technology that responds faster and learns from how users behave."
