

Owen Health Group Partners with GetHairMD™ to Transform Hair Restoration in West Texas

Lubbock Residents Gain Access to Advanced Multi-Modal Hair Loss Solutions Through Strategic Alliance

LUBBOCK, TX, UNITED STATES, April 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Owen Health Group and GetHairMD™ announce a partnership to bring cutting-edge hair restoration solutions to Lubbock and surrounding communities. This collaboration combines Dr. Jeff Owen's expertise in regenerative medicine with GetHairMD's comprehensive treatment protocols, which have achieved success rates exceeding 90%.

By integrating GetHairMD's proven multi-modality approach with our existing regenerative medicine program, we can address both the symptoms and underlying causes of hair loss.”

"Hair loss affects millions of Texans, impacting both physical appearance and emotional well-being," said Dr. Jeff Owen, Chief Medical Officer of Owen Health Group. "By integrating GetHairMD's proven multi-modality approach with our existing regenerative medicine program, we can address both the symptoms and underlying causes of hair loss."

Hair loss affects more than half of adult men and over 40% of women nationwide. The partnership brings FDA-cleared, non-invasive treatments to a region previously underserved in advanced hair restoration options.

Paul Herchman, CEO of GetHairMD, stated, "Dr. Owen's dedication to individualized care and expertise in regenerative medicine make him an ideal partner. His deep understanding of the West Texas community, combined with over 15 years of clinical experience, creates a perfect foundation for delivering exceptional outcomes."

Owen Health Group now offers GetHairMD's complete treatment spectrum, including:

- Clinical Hair Growth Laser therapy stimulating cellular repair
- Genomic Testing for identifying genetic factors and a custom prescription topical targeting patient-specific biological factors
- TransDermal Infusion technology for direct follicle treatment
- Medical-grade hair care products creating optimal scalp conditions
- Advanced at-home treatment options with Dual Wave Energy Cap and LightSmart Cap

A Lubbock native, Texas Tech University and Texas Tech Health Sciences Center graduate, Dr. Owen brings unique qualifications to this partnership. His credentials include specialized training in regenerative medicine, hormone therapy, and men's health. As an FAA aviation medical examiner and experienced pilot, Dr. Owen applies the same precision and personalized approach to hair restoration.

"Our family-owned practice has served this community for over 40 years with a commitment to innovative, whole-person care," said Dr. Owen. "This partnership extends our ability to help patients not just live healthier, but feel more confident in their appearance."
