USA Hemorrhoid Centers' team of experienced interventional radiologists specialize in hemorrhoid artery embolization \(HAE\). HAE is an FDA-approved procedure that targets arteries supplying blood to the hemorrhoid and reduces its blood flow, alleviating bleeding and swelling commonly experienced by hemorrhoid patients. Studies confirm that HAE's success rate is over 95 percent.

"At USA Hemorrhoid Centers, we are shaping the future of healthcare," said Yan Katsnelson, M.D., CEO and Founder of USA Hemorrhoid Centers. "Minimally invasive treatments like HAE improve patient outcomes and offer a more cost-effective alternative to traditional surgery."

With more than 25 newly opened clinics in key markets—including New York City, Philadelphia, Arlington, and the D.C. Metro Area—AAAHC-accredited USA Hemorrhoid Centers is expanding access to expert, minimally invasive care nationwide.

Hemorrhoids, which affect five percent of the population, can become constantly swollen and inflamed despite using home remedies or over-the-counter medication. While doctors warn that unsuccessful remedies warrant medical attention, only four percent of hemorrhoid patients see a doctor for treatment, according to the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Several studies have also reported that HAE's minimally invasive approach has a high success rate, supporting its use as an effective treatment option.
