With over a decade of expertise in custom extrusion and OEM services, the company supplies durable, weather-resistant vinyl materials trusted by global wholesalers, distributors, and construction brands.

"Recent tariff adjustments in the U.S. market have prompted us to accelerate our outreach to Europe, especially the UK construction and retail sector," Export Manager at the firm. "We're committed to offering premium-quality vinyl products at factory-direct prices, with short lead times and full CE/RoHS compliance."

According to U.S. trade data, average duties on Chinese building materials including PVC-based products increased by up to 25% in early 2025, prompting a broader re-alignment in global supply chains. Meanwhile, demand in European residential construction is projected to grow at 3.6% CAGR through 2027 (Euroconstruct, 2024).

The company's expanded product line includes:

PVC Sheets – ideal for signage, wall cladding, and fabrication

Vinyl Fence & Railing Systems – durable, maintenance-free outdoor solutions

Vinyl Flooring – high-performance planks suitable for residential and commercial use
PVC Mouldings & Trim Boards – moisture-resistant alternatives to wood

Operating from a 120,000 sqm manufacturing base, Boto Plastics Co., Ltd has served over 40 countries, with a growing client base in Europe and Southeast Asia. The company maintains strict quality standards, offering both RoHS and CE-compliant materials, and provides flexible customization for brand owners and construction solution providers.

“As a global-facing PVC Sheets manufacturer, we welcome new collaborations with UK and EU wholesalers and are confident in our ability to meet the rising demand for premium vinyl materials,” the spokesperson added.
