

The Original Warmth Returns: The 2024 ValueRays® Mouse Hand Warmer Pad — Cozy Comfort, Reinvented

A cozy heated pouch to house your cold mouse hand and a ValueRays Heated Mouse (sold separately). Infrared heat relaxes stiff muscles and overworked hands.

PALM SPRINGS, CA, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Before heated computer gear was cool, ValueRays® had already solved the problem of cold mouse hands — and it all started with a fleece pouch and a mission. Back in 2008, founder Anna Miller created the very first Mouse Hand Warmer Heated Pad, sparking a movement toward warmer, more ergonomic workspaces. Now in 2024, the original best-seller is newly updated with enhanced heat control and a sleeker, cozier design.

The ValueRays Mouse Hand Warmer Heated Pad is a soft, fleece-lined USB warming pouch that wraps around your mouse hand like a gentle hug. It pairs perfectly with any ValueRays Heated Mouse, creating a warm and ergonomic zone for your working or gaming hand.

2024 Updates Include:

- Plush fleece interior for enhanced comfort
- Carbon fiber infrared heating element (low-voltage 5v USB)
- New 3-level heat control switch for personalized warmth
- Eco-friendly, energy-efficient design

About ValueRays®

Founded in 2008, ValueRays® is a woman-owned business offering a full range of infrared heated computer accessories — including heated mice, hand warmers, and keyboard pads. Trusted by thousands, the brand is known for comfort, quality, and warmth that lasts.

“

I started this product because I worked long hours on the computer running my fashion website. After 13 years of cold mouse hand, I knew there had to be a better way.”
