

SECURITY TODAY ANNOUNCES WINNERS OF THE 2025 THE GOVIES GOVERNMENT SECURITY AWARDS

Security Today, the leading industry media brand for the global security marketplace, is pleased to announce the winners of this year's The GOVIES Awards.

WOODLAND HILLS, CA, UNITED STATES, April 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Today, Security Today, the leading industry media brand for the global security marketplace, is pleased to announce the winners of this year's The GOVIES Government Security Awards.

Twenty companies across 27 categories are being recognized this year for their innovative products and solutions. Launched in 2009, The GOVIES honors outstanding government security products in a variety of categories, including artificial intelligence, security and risk intelligence and video surveillance cameras.

"With a diverse set of categories, this awards program showcases some of the most innovative products shaping government security today. This year's winners reflect that innovation and excellence," said Security Today Publisher Ralph C. Jensen. "We're proud to recognize these standout solutions that are not only setting new standards but also making a meaningful impact."
