

Kristina Ahlnäs to Present Kristina's Cache: A Memoir of Adventure and Survival in Alaska at LA Times Festival of Books

A Fascinating True Story of Resilience, Exploration, and Life in the Last Frontier

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, April 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Acclaimed author and adventurer Kristina Ahlnäs will be showcasing her remarkable memoir, Kristina's Cache: A Memoir of Adventure and Survival in Alaska, at the L.A. Times Festival of Books 2025. Visitors can find the book at Olympus Story House, Gold Zone, South Trousdale, Booth #182, during the festival on April 26-27, 2025, at the University of Southern California (USC) campus.

Kristina's Cache: A Memoir of Adventure and Survival in Alaska

In this compelling and highly detailed memoir, Ahlnäs recounts her extraordinary experiences as a modern-day immigrant from Finland who arrives in Alaska in 1969 with a telegram job offer in marine geology. From scientific expeditions and dangerous winter drives on the Alaska Highway to surviving alone on the Juneau Icefield and building her own log cabin from scratch, Kristina's Cache is a true testament to perseverance, ingenuity, and an unbreakable spirit.

Ahlnäs' story unfolds over 33 years, capturing the transformation of Alaska and her personal evolution. Her experiences range from being the chief scientist on an oceanographic cruise, to living four years in a tiny 49-square-foot log cache without running water and without electricity for one year, battling harsh elements, and ultimately constructing her dream cabin. The memoir also explores the cultural and environmental changes in Alaska, blending adventure, history, and personal discovery.

Ahlnäs, a former University of Alaska researcher, holds a background in geophysics and oceanography. Her memoir has earned widespread recognition for its authentic storytelling and rich historical insights.

Copies are available through Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and other digital platforms.
