

Helpside Expands Broker Partnerships to Deliver Full-Service HR to Small and Medium-Sized Businesses

PEO's broker-friendly model enhances client retention while offering access to premium HR and benefit services.

LINDON, UT, UNITED STATES, April 25, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Helpside, a Utah-based professional employer organization (PEO), is strengthening its partnerships with health insurance brokers to deliver scalable HR, payroll, and benefits solutions to small and mid-sized businesses. This collaborative model gives brokers a strategic advantage, enabling them to retain and support clients while expanding their services.

Helpside integrates seamlessly into the broker-client relationship, acting as a behind-the-scenes partner rather than a replacement. This approach allows brokers to provide businesses with enterprise-level HR support without disrupting existing trust and continuity.

Through these partnerships, brokers can give clients access to Helpside's full suite of services, including payroll processing, risk management, employee benefits administration, and compliance support. Helpside also offers competitive employee benefits, savings, and options typically out of reach for smaller organizations, helping its clients attract and retain top talent.

Implementation is designed to be straightforward, with Helpside managing onboarding and administrative setup to minimize disruption. Ongoing support is available through dedicated account teams and accessible service channels.

As small and mid-sized businesses face persistent labor shortages, rising healthcare costs, and growing regulatory complexity, many are turning to their trusted advisors—brokers—for more holistic support. Helpside's model allows brokers to meet this demand without extending their internal resources.

In today's competitive economy, streamlined HR solutions and stronger employee benefits are no longer optional—they are essential for long-term growth and retention. This broker partnership strategy reflects Helpside's broader mission to simplify business operations for entrepreneurs while reinforcing the value brokers bring to their clients.

About the Company:

Helpside has been taking care of small businesses since 1990. They are proud to partner with small businesses to provide payroll, employee benefits, human resources, employer compliance, safety, and workers' compensation, allowing leaders to focus on their businesses' growth and success.
