Addressing the Financial Management Pain Points of Georgia's SMEs

Businesses throughout Georgia face numerous operational and staffing challenges when it comes to maintaining internal financial departments. Rising employment costs, difficulty sourcing local financial experts, and outdated systems contribute to growing inefficiencies. Key issues include:

- 1) High expenses tied to in-house financial personnel and technology maintenance
- 2) Limited availability of qualified accounting professionals in local markets
- 3) Irregular reporting cycles and prolonged month-end closures
- 4) Lack of access to up-to-the-minute financial data
- 5) Data privacy concerns when sharing sensitive financial records externally

These persistent challenges point to an urgent need for a comprehensive solution that enhances visibility, improves accuracy, and ensures complete data security.
