Through this partnership, WaveStrong will integrate Whiteswan's advanced Identity Security Platform into its portfolio of managed security services, providing customers with state-of-the-art capabilities including Identity Threat Detection and Response \(ITDR\), cloud access governance, and seamless privilege management.

"WaveStrong has built a trusted reputation in the cybersecurity space over the last 25 years, and their deep expertise in managed services perfectly complements our mission to secure every identity across the enterprise," said Vinay Mamidi, CEO of Whiteswan Identity Security. "Whiteswan has seen significant traction for its SentralID- unified identity security platform, which seamlessly integrates lateral movement prevention, just-in-time access, and ITDR into a single, efficient console. The SentralID platform has already been successfully deployed and operationalized by some of Asia's largest service providers and manufacturing leaders. As we scale our operations in the US market, Wavestrong's expertise and capabilities make this partnership a natural fit. We are thrilled to collaborate with Wavestrong to expand the reach and impact of the Whiteswan
