Users can search for chords by name, selected notes, or even by tapping directly on a virtual fretboard, making it faster and more intuitive than traditional chord

One of the app's standout features is Chord Assist, an intelligent practice coach that listens to the user's guitar playing in real time. As users play, GtrWiz lights up the correct fretboard positions, encouraging players to turn every highlighted fret green. This interactive feedback builds accuracy, confidence, and finger strength for more consistent, fluent playing.

GtrWiz makes learning meaningful by helping users see how chords connect within musical progressions. With every chord explored, players can instantly discover related chords and common progressions, deepening their musical vocabulary. This approach moves beyond simple memorization, fostering a richer understanding of how music works and allowing users to improvise and compose more naturally.

With the Song Maker tool, users can easily create song structures by arranging chords and then jamming along to realistic playback with guitar, bass, and drum patterns. Song ideas can be saved, edited, and shared, making the app a valuable tool for songwriters, bands, and solo performers alike.

The app also includes an Interactive Chord Progression Player, letting users practice real progressions in a dynamic musical environment. Users can select a starting key and mood (major or minor), providing endless combinations for practice and creativity.
