EASA - Compliant Aviation Compliance

The program is designed for experienced aviation compliance professionals seeking to enhance their auditing capabilities and leadership skills within Quality and Compliance Monitoring Systems. It is aligned with EASA Part CAMO requirements and supports the transition from the legacy Part M Subpart G framework.

Training will be led by Steve Bentley, FRAeS, CEO of Sofema Aviation Services, who brings extensive experience in EASA regulatory compliance and auditing practices.

Topics to be covered include:

EASA-compliant auditing techniques

Compliance Monitoring Systems across multiple domains

Planning, conducting, and managing internal and external audits

Risk-based oversight strategies and performance evaluation

Leadership development for Senior and Lead Auditors

Application of group workshops, case studies, and scenario analysis

This training is intended for Compliance Managers, Quality Managers, Senior and Lead Auditors, Continuing Airworthiness Managers, and professionals preparing for senior compliance roles.

The venue, No. 4 Hamilton Place, is a Grade II listed Edwardian building in London's Mayfair district, offering a formal setting with professional conference facilities.
