The new functionality expands Sell The Trend's multi-channel sales capabilities, including integrations with Shopify, WooCommerce, and SellShop. The Sell The Trend eBay integration allows users to import products with one click, synchronize inventory and pricing automatically, and fulfill customer orders with real-time tracking updates—all managed within a single dashboard.

"We are pleased to offer our users the ability to access a wider customer base through eBay," said Rachid "Rush" Wehbi, CEO of Sell The Trend. "Our focus is on providing a centralized solution that reduces operational complexity for e-commerce & dropshipping businesses. The addition of eBay strengthens our multi-channel offering and provides users with another opportunity to diversify and scale."

Key features of the eBay integration include:
