"At Roehl Transport, safety is our cornerstone value," Spiros shared. "I'm so proud of our team's commitment to safety and to driving the Roehl Way to Protect Others."

The ATA President's Award is the trucking industry's top honor, and it recognizes the best trucking companies, LTL (less than truckload) and truckload fleets, in three categories: fleets Under 25 Million Miles, fleets between 25 to 100 Million Miles, and fleets with Over 100 Million Miles. Roehl won in the Over 100 Million Miles category. Roehl Transport has finished in the top 3 for safety results every year since 2003, and in 2008, Roehl was the first truckload carrier to win the President's Award. Prior to 2008, LTL fleets received the award since its inception in 1982. Now, with five awards, Roehl Transport is the only truckload carrier to have won the President's Award five times.

Safety is Roehl's Cornerstone Value

"Year-after-year and mile-after-mile, our teammates bring our value of safety to life," Spiros continued. "Winning the ATA President's Award for the fifth time reinforces that our drivers are leaders."

Roehl Transport offers careers for all levels of truck drivers, from experienced truck driving jobs with one of the industry's best mix of pay and home time, to on-the-job paid CDL truck driver training for those who are just starting out, to a wide variety of non-driving jobs to support the company's driving teammates. Headquartered in Wisconsin, the company also has major terminal locations in Arizona, Georgia, Indiana, Michigan and Texas and provides transportation and logistics services to customers across North America.

The ATA is the largest national trade association for the trucking industry, representing thousands of trucking companies. Through a federation of 50 affiliated state trucking associations and industry-related conferences and councils, the ATA is the voice of the industry America depends on most to move our nation's freight.
