

Level2 And NexTrades Introduce AI Powered Strategies For Active Traders

Level2 and NexTrades have announced a strategic partnership, introducing a suite of cutting-edge AI-powered trading tools for active traders.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, April 29, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Level2 and NexTrades have announced a new strategic partnership, introducing a suite of cutting-edge AI-powered trading tools tailored for active traders. This collaboration brings together two innovative platforms with a shared mission: to simplify automated trading and make powerful, professional-grade tools accessible to a wider audience.

Designed for traders of all experience levels, the new AI-driven features offer automation, performance optimization, and real-time adaptability—empowering traders to navigate volatile markets with greater confidence.

Smarter Trading, Powered by AI

This launch introduces several new advanced capabilities:

1. No-Code Strategy Builder: Users can visually build and automate trading strategies without writing a single line of code, dramatically reducing time-to-market for ideas.
2. AI-Powered Insights: Adaptive algorithms help traders identify market patterns and optimize strategy parameters in real-time, improving decision-making under changing conditions.
3. Historical Backtesting: Traders can simulate strategy performance, gaining actionable insights to fine-tune and validate before going live.
4. End-to-End Visual Execution: From idea to deployment, Level2's visual workflow connects data, strategy, and execution in a seamless interface that enhances speed and clarity.

Executive insights

"AI-powered strategies are transforming how traders think and operate. By combining NexTrades' intelligent automation with Level2's fully-visual platform, we're enabling traders to unlock a new level of capability."

- Andrew Grevett, Founder & CEO of Level2

"The future of trading is visual, data-driven, and powered by artificial intelligence.
