The 12 S.W.A.T. meetings at New Life Recovery are open to anyone seeking help with addiction, regardless of their background or beliefs. The program incorporates elements of spirituality, mindfulness, and self-discovery to help individuals overcome their addictions and maintain long-term sobriety. The meetings are led by experienced counselors and peer support specialists who have personal experience with addiction and recovery.

In addition to the 12 S.W.A.T. meetings, New Life Recovery is also expanding their services to include NO COST, faith-based, long-term residential drug and alcohol treatment programs for men and women. These programs will provide a safe and supportive environment for individuals to heal and recover from addiction, while incorporating spiritual practices and teachings into their treatment. The center will also offer sober living homes for those who have completed their treatment program and are transitioning back into society.

"We are excited to offer our unique 12 S.W.A.T. meetings and expand our services to include faith-based treatment programs and sober living homes," said Victor Stewart, founder of New Life Recovery. "Our goal is to provide individuals with the tools and support they need to overcome their addictions and live a fulfilling life in recovery. We believe that our new programs will offer a holistic approach to recovery and help individuals achieve long-term success."

New Life Recovery is dedicated to helping individuals break free from the cycle of addiction and find a new life of hope and purpose.
