KANSAS CITY, MO, UNITED STATES, June 5, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AAAC Wildlife Removal, one of the nation's largest wildlife removal company in the United States, is excited to announce that Sammy and Salome Sanabria have taken ownership of its Kansas City franchise. Both, in their early 20's, Sammy is the youngest franchisees in AAAC's network, bringing fresh energy and ambition to the thriving nuisance wildlife management industry, which addresses over $3 billion in annual damages across the U.S.

After a year of working at AAAC Wildlife Removal of Kansas City, Sammy

Sanabria honed his skills as a wildlife technician, mastering humane removal and property protection techniques for animals like raccoons, bats, and squirrels. Previously on a path toward a white-collar banking career, Sammy made a bold career pivot, discovering his passion for wildlife management. "I knew this was the way," Sammy said. "Working hands-on to solve real problems for homeowners feels incredibly rewarding."

With his wife, Salome, by his side, Sammy is poised to elevate AAAC Wildlife Removal of Kansas City to new heights. Salome's business acumen and shared commitment to exceptional client service complement Sammy's technical expertise, creating a dynamic husband-and-wife team. Together, they aim to expand the franchise's reach across the Greater Kansas City Metro area, serving residential, commercial, and municipal clients with industry-leading wildlife control solutions.
