During the event, OnPage will showcase its latest innovation in incident response automation: the OnPage Public API and BlastIT API. These newly released APIs are designed to accelerate and optimize incident management by enabling real-time, automated alerting and mass notification workflows.

OnPage Public API allows seamless integration with ITSM, Monitoring platforms and incident response systems, empowering teams to trigger high-priority alerts directly from their existing platforms. Meanwhile, the BlastIT API enables organizations to instantly send mass notifications to large groups, ensuring rapid dissemination of critical updates during system outages, security incidents or emergencies. Together, these APIs enhance operational efficiency by automating escalation paths, supporting customizable messaging, and ensuring alerts reach the right responders via voice, SMS, and mobile push notifications.

Attendees are invited to visit OnPage's booth (#302) for hands-on demos and an inside look at how OnPage's technology empowers IT teams to stay ahead of critical incidents, ensure 24/7 coverage and minimize downtime. In addition, the team will be giving away T-shirts, baseball caps and Stonemaier Games gift cards to attendees.
