Teamwork Town's adopted home of Whitney, located approximately 30 minutes north of Waco, is one of the state's most idyllic spots for partaking in National Fishing and Boating Week activities as a result of its proximity to 24,000-acre Lake Whitney, which functions as a bustling natural hub for water-based recreational activity while simultaneously serving as the backdrop for 775-acre Lake Whitney State Park.

"National Fishing and Boating Week represents an optimal time for locals and visitors to take advantage of pristine Lake Whitney and all that it has to offer from a recreational standpoint," stated Teamwork Town CEO Gary Finch. Teamwork Town recommends the following ways to mark National Fishing and Boating Week:

Enjoy Free Fishing Day

On Saturday, June 7, Texas residents can fish without a license at Lake Whitney State Park. This annual event encourages newcomers and seasoned anglers alike to enjoy the sport and learn about local fish species, including largemouth, striped, and white bass, as well as blue catfish. The park provides loaner fishing gear, making it easy for families to get started.

Join the Annual Youth Fishing Tournament

Lake Whitney State Park hosts its annual Youth Fishing Tournament on the first Saturday of June. This event offers young anglers the chance to compete in a friendly environment, fostering a love for fishing and outdoor activities.

Book a Guided Fishing Trip

For those seeking a more personalized experience, local fishing guides offer trips tailored to all skill levels. Guides provide expert knowledge of the lake, ensuring a rewarding day on the water. Whether targeting specific species or simply enjoying the scenery, a guided trip is a great way to make the most of the area's resources and National Fishing and Boating Week.

Support Conservation and Clean Water Initiatives

National Fishing and Boating Week emphasizes the importance of protecting our waterways. Participants are encouraged to follow the "Clean. Drain. Dry." protocol to prevent the spread of invasive species and to properly dispose of fishing line and bait. By adhering to these practices, anglers contribute to the preservation of Lake Whitney's ecosystem.

Lake Whitney State Park offers a variety of activities, including fishing, swimming, boating, hiking, and camping. With its picturesque landscapes and abundant wildlife, it's a prime destination for outdoor enthusiasts. The park is just three miles from Whitney, providing easy access to local amenities.
