

NIKSUN to Speak at DoDIN APL Day on Novel Approaches to Compliance, Certification, and Cybersecurity

PRINCETON, NJ, UNITED STATES, May 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NIKSUN, the world leader in comprehensive cybersecurity, compliance, availability monitoring, and network to application performance management solutions, is pleased to announce that Nik Pruthi, President and CFO, will be a featured speaker at the upcoming Commercial Solutions for Classified \(CSfC\) Conference at The Hotel UMD in College Park, Maryland.

Nik will present on the event's DoDIN APL Day, taking place on Wednesday, May 7, 2025, at 2:30 p.m. His talk will offer insights into navigating the DoDIN APL process, including the challenges and benefits of obtaining certification and an overview of DoD's stringent requirements. Nik's talk, titled A Novel Approach to Reducing Compliance and Certification Costs While Simultaneously Decreasing Your Attack Surface, Improving Reliability, and Enhancing Interoperability, will emphasize methods NIKSUN uses to optimize efficiency in the pre-testing and development phase.

In speaking about his talk, Nik stated, "Navigating the DoDIN APL process requires a comprehensive understanding of the DoD's requirements, meticulous preparation, and a commitment to continuous improvement. With recent changes, the DoDIN APL process has proven to be a challenge for many vendors, however, its benefits remain profound." He continued, "Uniquely, NIKSUN uses an innovative approach to optimize efficiency in the pre-testing and development phase to minimize costs while maximizing outcomes. In the end, this allows our company to enhance cybersecurity, reliability, and interoperability, thus ensuring our solutions can support critical needs without compromising security or functionality."

DoDIN APL Day is part of DIB Certification Week, which runs from May 5th to May 7th, 2025, and brings together experts across key compliance and certification areas. The week also features
