

GoComet Earns Double Recognition in Gartner® 2025 Reports, Highlighting Strength in Supply Chain Innovation

Acknowledged for Excellence in Both Transportation Management Systems and Real-Time Visibility Solutions

SINGAPORE, May 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- GoComet, a fast-growing leader in logistics

This recognition from Gartner is a reflection of the tangible outcomes we are creating for businesses worldwide, from lowering freight costs to enhancing end-to-end supply chain visibility.”

technology innovation, has been spotlighted in two major Gartner® 2025 Business Process Context reports: the International Context: Magic Quadrant™ for Transportation Management Systems (TMS) and the International Transportation Visibility Business Process Context: Magic Quadrant™ for Real-Time Transportation Visibility Platforms (RTTVP). The recognition underscores GoComet's rapid rise as a trusted partner for organizations navigating complex global supply chains.

The dual listing marks a major milestone for GoComet, reinforcing its rare position at the intersection of intelligent transportation execution and predictive supply chain visibility. In a logistics world increasingly defined by disruption, GoComet's solutions are empowering businesses to stay resilient, agile, and cost-effective.

In the Gartner® International Context: Magic Quadrant for Transportation Management Systems report, GoComet stands out for its cloud-native platform that enables organizations to automate freight management, optimize carrier engagement, and orchestrate multimodal shipping operations with precision. Designed for scalability and speed, GoComet's TMS capabilities support real-world global logistics challenges across industries and borders.

Meanwhile, Gartner® the International Transportation Visibility Business Process Context for RTTVPs recognizes GoComet's GoTrack solution. The platform delivers live ETAs, proactive disruption alerts, and predictive analytics across ocean, air, and road shipments. In the current volatile environment, this level of visibility empowers companies to mitigate risks and maintain control before delays escalate.

Taken together, these two Gartner recognitions affirm GoComet's unique value, a comprehensive, unified platform that blends execution power with predictive intelligence, helping customers not just react, but anticipate.

"Our vision has always been to make logistics smarter, more transparent, and more resilient," said Gautam Prem Jain, Chief Product Officer at GoComet.

Founded in 2016 and headquartered in Singapore, GoComet serves customers across North America, Asia-Pacific, Europe, Middle East, and Latin America regions. The platform offers emissions tracking, AI-powered insights, and seamless ERP integrations, with a customer base spanning Fortune 500 companies, global manufacturers, and leading logistics providers.
