Sectran is one of the trusted Cash Logistics Companies in the region. They've worked with banks, government offices, and large stores. They use what they've learned to help other groups work safer and faster.

Each job starts with a plan. Sectran talks with the client about cash flow, risk, and space. Then, they build a system that fits. It could mean daily pickups, or only once a week. It might mean setting up a vault, or linking with a bank.

Armored trucks and trained staff handle every pickup and drop-off. All workers follow safety steps. Bags are locked and tracked. From the moment cash leaves a store to the time it's stored or deposited, it's watched.

Vaults and trucks use the latest tools. GPS tracks the trucks. The vaults have alarms, guards, and backups. All logs are saved and can be checked at any time.

Clients also get online tools. These tools show totals, schedules, and service updates. A manager can log in and see what cash is on hand or on the way. These updates are fast and help the team stay on track.

Sectran keeps improving its service. They add new tools and train staff often. They look at each job for ways to save time or cut risk. Their goal is to make cash handling safer and easier.
