

PCC Secure and Siegel Announce Strategic Alliance to Deliver Integrated Security and Architectural Solutions

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- PCC Secure, a leading provider of advanced security consulting services, and Siegel, an award-winning architecture and design firm, are pleased to announce a new strategic alliance: SiegelSecure. This collaboration aims to deliver comprehensive, integrated solutions that prioritize both aesthetic excellence and advanced security planning from the earliest stages of design.

By combining the architectural expertise of Siegel with PCC Secure's extensive knowledge of threat mitigation, protective design, and risk management, this alliance provides clients with a distinctly cohesive approach to projects that require complex security and design solutions.

"This professional relationship enables organizations and institutions that require thoughtful, customized solutions to address their security challenges, particularly those operating in high-risk, high-visibility, or mission-critical environments," said Sal Lifrieri, CEO and President of PCC Secure.

"By coordinating our specialized services, clients benefit from a seamless integration of architectural design and security expertise, resulting in efficient projects that fulfill both aesthetic objectives and complex safety and security requirements without compromise," said Robert Siegel, Principal of Siegel.

The strategic alliance is founded on a shared commitment to delivering high-quality, client-focused solutions. By coordinating their specialized services, PCC Secure and Siegel are well-positioned to serve clients across various sectors, including government, commercial, educational, cultural institutions, and high-net-worth individuals with specific security needs.
