“Fields of Honor,” an evening of country music and entertainment conceived in response to the tragic February 27th shooting at UPMC Memorial Hospital. The event will honor the memory of fallen West York Borough Police Officer Andrew Duarte and directly benefit hospital staff wounded or traumatized by the violence.

The concert, featuring multi-platinum country artist Justin Moore and special guests, is set for Saturday, June 14 at 6:00 p.m. EDT at the Inch & Co. farm, 2950 Lewisberry Road.

Proceeds will support UPMC nurses affected by the shooting, the creation of the Officer Andrew Duarte Memorial Shooting Range and Simulation Room to help the West York Borough Police best equip officers for crisis situations, and a healing room, dedicated to staff well-being, at the hospital.

“We felt compelled to act after the events of February 27th,” said Jeffrey Inch, CEO, Inch & Co. “Fields of Honor is a chance to remember Officer Duarte and support those impacted. We're honored to partner with 423 Productions and the UPMC Pinnacle Foundation on this effort.”

UPMC Pinnacle Foundation President Jessica Ritchie added, “We're grateful to Inch & Co. and 423 Productions. These funds will help our staff heal and provide a permanent space supporting our team's emotional needs, while also bolstering the courageous protection that area police officers provide.”

Ticket sales begin Friday, April 25th at 10:00 a.m. EDT at
