makers of premium, Better-For-You, plant-powered protein snacks, plans to wow attendees at this year's Sweets & Snacks show in Indianapolis (May 13-15) with a preview of its reimagined branding and packaging design, brand new, category-innovating snack bar, and two deliciously zesty additions to its still-new, best-selling protein tortilla chip line. As the only plant-based, BFY snack brand whose products all feature excellent protein, low sugar and calories, and fiber, SimplyProtein is, again, filling a significant gap within an extremely competitive category, and satisfying strong consumer demand for nutritious, indulgent snacks that don't sacrifice taste.

BOLD NEW BRANDING and PACKAGING

SimplyProtein will reveal new branding across its portfolio, including an entirely new look and feel for its packaging that brings to life the brand's mission and DNA. Featuring a lighthearted vibe, bright colors, and more emphasis on its delicious, protein-rich, plant-powered products, the fresh new ethos effectively showcases SimplyProtein's playful personality and approachability, while stunning product photography better distinguishes it within the highly competitive snacking category. Additionally, the distinctive new branding is more cohesive, ensuring consumers can easily identify SimplyProtein products across grocery store aisles.

STACKED BARS: "Like a BFY candy bar with uncompromised taste!"

To address overwhelming consumer demand for protein snacks that taste great while supporting their lifestyle goals, SimplyProtein has created a BFY bar that tastes like a mainstream candy bar – but contains more protein and is sweetened naturally with agave and cane sugars; no artificial sweeteners in these bars! A true category-innovator, Stacked Bars are the first Better-For-You, plant-based, multi-layered protein-rich bar offering a candy bar-like experience outside of the performance bar set, for more of an everyday indulgence. In fact, Stacked Bars truly taste like a decadent treat and yet, contain 10 grams of plant-based protein that you wouldn't know was there if we didn't tell you.

Perfect for satisfying indulgent cravings without compromising on taste or nutritional integrity, each 1.58 oz Stacked Bar contains 10 grams of plant protein, 7-8 grams of sugar, and 7-10 grams of fibre. Its four delicious layers feature a chewy base with crisps, nuts, or fruit, covered by a layer of caramel or fudge, topped with a layer of nuts for added crunch, and then enrobed in a delicious chocolatey coating. Stacked Bars will debut in three tasty flavours, Salted Caramel Crisp, Tangy Cherry Nut, and Fudgy Almond Crunch, starting late summer in the U.S and this fall in Canada. They will be sold for convenience as singles at $2.49, and as a four-bar box for $8.99.

INDULGENT SNACKING WITH TWO ZESTY NEW FLAVORS of Restaurant-Style Protein Tortilla Chips

SimplyProtein will also preview two NEW bold-flavored additions to its hugely popular line of Restaurant-Style Protein Tortilla Chips: Kickin' Jalapeno Ranch and Fiesta Taco. Unlike any other protein tortilla chip in the market, these new flavors are perfect for chip lovers seeking a zestier, more robust taste and a more indulgent snacking experience that doesn't leave you feeling stuffed after only a few chips. These BFY protein-rich chips have big, crave-worthy flavor in every crispy bite to satisfy even the most serious crunchy-salty craving while still delivering on nutrition, providing 7 grams of pea protein per serving. The new flavors join the original lineup of Sea Salt, Hint of Lime, and Hint of Habanero on-shelf in the U.S. starting in July and across Canada this fall. The 4.58 oz. bags have a suggested retail price of $4.99.
