

Andros Achieves Dual Recognition With URAC Accreditation And NCQA Compliance

Andros earns full 3-year URAC CVO accreditation, joining under 25 CVOs with both URAC & NCQA honors—highlighting its commitment to quality and patient safety.

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, May 13, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Andros, the leading network lifecycle platform solution, today announced it has achieved the full three-year CVO accreditation from URAC—Utilization Review Accreditation Commission—a national leader in promoting healthcare quality through accreditation, certification, and measurement.

“Earning URAC accreditation is a powerful validation of our operational rigor and the trust our clients place in us,” said Mark Hirschhorn, Vice President, Compliance Officer at Andros. “Our work touches nearly every corner of the healthcare system. We take that responsibility seriously, and this accreditation reflects our team’s tireless commitment to excellence.”

When we choose a partner like Andros, we’re looking for a team that meets the highest industry standards, and their dual accreditation helps us move forward with confidence.”

Tamika Hunt, Credentialing Manager, Talkspace

This milestone, alongside Andros’s longstanding NCQA CVO certification, places the company among an elite group of fewer than 25 CVOs nationwide to hold both distinctions. The dual recognition signals Andros’s deep-rooted commitment to quality of care, patient safety, and continuous improvement in healthcare operations.

URAC accreditation evaluates organizations against evidence-based standards to ensure high-quality, accountable, and consistent services. Obtaining it broadens Andros’s ability to serve health plans, provider organizations, and digital health leaders—like Talkspace, a leading virtual behavioral health provider—that prioritize rigorous compliance frameworks.

“Compliance isn’t just a checkbox, it’s foundational,” said Tamika Hunt, Credentialing Manager at Talkspace. “When we choose a partner like Andros, we’re looking for a team that meets the highest industry standards, and their dual accreditation helps us move forward with confidence.”

The NCQA certification further supports Andros’s ability to deliver validated, compliant credentialing services at scale.

As the new NCQA standards go into effect on July 1, 2025, Andros remains ready to help organizations adapt and comply. Whether clients are evaluating their credentialing policies or seeking expert guidance on compliance, Andros offers services tailored to support smooth transitions.
