

Mixed Reality Powers a New Era of Endurance Sports for 2025 IRONMAN 70.3 Da Nang with tagSpace Technology

2025 IRONMAN 70.3 Da Nang made history as the first-ever IRONMAN event to integrate Mixed Reality technology via collaboration with tech company, tagSpace.

DA NANG, VIETNAM, May 12, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The 2025 IRONMAN 70.3 Da Nang, organized by Sunrise Events Vietnam, made history as the first-ever IRONMAN event to feature integrated Mixed Reality (MR) technology — thanks to a new collaboration with immersive tech company, tagSpace.

tagSpace Mixed Reality at IRONMAN Danang 2025

This ground-breaking partnership brings a fully interactive digital layer to the event, designed to transform how athletes, spectators, and fans experience race day. By leveraging tagSpace's cutting-edge Mixed Reality platform, participants enjoyed real-time navigation, enhanced access to information, and exclusive digital content — all through their smartphones.

Key MR Features Include:

- Location-Based Experiences: Scan your surroundings to reveal hidden digital content at key areas including the Expo, Transition Zone, Start Line, and more.
- Smart Navigation: Easily find your way around the venue with on-the-spot directions and guided paths.
- Instant Updates & Offers: Get live course information, race updates, and unlock exclusive promotions from sponsors with just a few taps.

Paul Martin, tagSpace's founder and CEO said: "One of our core pillars at tagSpace is using new technologies to encourage people to get outdoors, active and healthy and our mantra is; "Information, Exploration, Entertainment". So combining these experiences for Ironman triathlon events is something our team is incredibly excited about."

Rob Zamacoma, General Manager of Sunrise Events Vietnam said: "This marked a major milestone in our journey to blend innovation with endurance sports," said . "By teaming up with tagSpace, we not just organize races — we're crafting next-level experiences that connect our athletes and audience like never before."

As thousands descended on the stunning coastal city of Da Nang for the 2025 IRONMAN 70.3 on 9-11 May 2025, this immersive upgrade redefined what it means to be part of the IRONMAN community — creating a race environment that was more engaging, intuitive, and unforgettable.

This is the future of racing where technology and human performance meet.
