Launches Wealth Partners Real Estate Brokerage, a National Firm Built by Investors for Investors

Renowned real estate entrepreneur and investor Stephan Piscano officially announces the national launch of Wealth Partners Real Estate Brokerage, a first-of-its-kind real estate firm specifically designed to serve the unique needs of investors across the United States.

Our clients dealing with agents that are like-minded and have the training and resources needed to get high performing deals done, and optimize ROI for all of our partners in the long and short term.”

Backed by decades of investment experience and deep roots in real estate development, Wealth Partners Real Estate Brokerage offers a bold, investor-centric model that eliminates the disconnect between traditional brokerages and the strategies used by top real estate investors. Headquartered in Napa, California, the firm is now operational in Florida, California, Oregon, Utah, Kentucky, and Nevada, with aggressive plans for continued expansion.

“We are looking at this venture as much more than a real estate brokerage, this is an opportunity for investors to have the ultimate level of comfort dealing with agents that are like-minded and have the training and resources needed to get high performing deals done, and optimize ROI for all of our partners in the long and short term.” said Stephan Piscano, founder and CEO.

A Brokerage Backed by a National Investment Network

Stephan Piscano, also known as the founder of The Real Estate Networking Group (with over 2.1 million active investor members) and managing partner of Vacation Wealth Partners, brings a rare combination of investment savvy, digital marketing power, and brokerage leadership to this new venture.

Agents joining Wealth Partners gain access to exclusive off-market inventory, in-house deal support, institutional-level analysis, and nationwide referral networks. In addition, the brokerage's affiliation with Vacation Wealth Partners gives agents and clients a unique opportunity to participate in high-yield investment projects and vacation rental portfolios. Each agent also must undergo training and receive certification of general investment principles including the seller financing model that Piscano has made famous from an investment perspective.

Why Wealth Partners Is Different A Digital-First Brokerage for the Modern Investor

Stephan Piscano's commitment to innovation is at the heart of Wealth Partners Real Estate Brokerage. By combining aggressive digital outreach with hands-on advisory, his team offers unmatched tools and support for clients seeking income-producing assets, vacation rentals, and commercial property investments. Every agent instantly has access to digital marketing and a more than 2.1 million member database to drive traffic for listings, buyers, sellers and connect all of our like minded partners together so we can all prosper together.

With exclusive access to off-market inventory through Vacation Wealth Partners, agents under the Wealth Partners umbrella benefit from more deal flow, faster closings, and national visibility.

Wealth Partners is not just disrupting the brokerage model — it's reimagining it. Unlike traditional firms focused only on primary home sales, Wealth Partners specializes in:

Income-producing investment properties

Vacation rental portfolios

1031 exchange opportunities

Hotels

Seller Financing

The firm also delivers robust support for agents, including cutting-edge lead generation, investor training, and nationwide branding resources.
